

Royalty Tracker

The royalty accounting system that is revolutionizing publishing.

“Royalty Tracker...automates the royalty collection and payment process so well that [one publisher] claims work that used to take weeks of hand labor is now finished in hours.”

Publishers Weekly, March 26 2001

- Save Months of Labor
- Eliminate Errors
- Get Control

Royalty Tracker can handle virtually any complexity your contract negotiators can dream up. Sliding scales, rights, and reserve accounts are a piece of cake.

There may be other systems which claim to handle royalties as part of a larger package, but do you really want to trust the most complex financial component of your business to an add-on module?

Royalty Tracker is built with robust, proven Microsoft technologies to offer the speed and flexibility you need.

Face it, royalties were a burden. They consumed months of labor, were fraught with inaccuracies, and created an uncomfortable legal exposure. They were nothing short of a cost-center headache. Until now.

Royalty Tracker will reduce the time spent managing your royalty process from months to hours. How much valuable staff time do you consume managing this process? Imagine the money you will save reallocating these resources away from this cost-center, towards revenue generating opportunities.

With the simple push of a button, Royalty Tracker will calculate royalties and generate statements.

Royalties may well have been the most complex, difficult to manage task of running your business. Eliminate that headache now – put your energies back into earning cash!

“Royalty Tracker has simplified this incredibly complex task, freeing up my staff and easily paying for itself in the process.”
